SENIORS

Senior Candids

Class History

It was August of 2004 when we began our journey through Southbridge High School. We were upset about summer's ending but were eager to start our high school career. Before we knew it, elections were upon us. We elected Lauren Hatch as President, Jose Rivera as Vice President, Tighe Wilhelmy as secretary, and Andrew Philbrook as treasurer. With the lack of help from our advisors, Mr. Shemmeth and Mr. Williamson, we began planning for the Thanksgiving Rally. Not long after our first official skit meeting, there was a messy situation in the cafeteria that took away our dreams of beating the seniors. We made the six o'clock news and all the events were cancelled. After many debates with the school committee and administration, a last minute semi-formal dance was put on by Pop-Warner. We ended the year with a high number of $400.00 by successfully selling water bottles at the indoor field day.

We returned in the fall of 2005 with great expectations considering it could not have gotten any worse. We were excited to know that we had two new advisors, Ms. Jowett and Mr. Laine. With two new advisors came a new e-board. We elected Ashley Power as President, Karla Espino as Vice President, Erin McNally as Secretary, Lauren Wilson as Treasurer. The rally was quickly and the theme was Safari Nights. We prove ourselves with our skit, "Ace Ventura: came in second behind the seniors in both skit and poster. In following tradition, we were in charge of the spring semi-formal. The theme was Mardi Gras. After dancing with the lights on for an hour, everybody left for a soon to be busted party. Still broke, we began to search for prom locations. We decided on the Southbridge Hotel and Conference Center not knowing it was too close to home.

a n d approaching finally had a chance to When Nature Calls." We

We sprinted into junior year with Steve Carrington's 5k Road Race. We earned $2000.00 and began to form a prom committee. Elections came around and we noticed the senior hallway began to fill with life-size posters and sticky paper. Our e-board had changed once again with Karla Espino as President, Ashley Power as Vice President, Erin McNally as Secretary, and Andrew Philbrook as Treasurer. It was rally time again and we won skit with the theme "Clue: Las Vegas Nights." Unfortunately, the poster judges forgot their glasses at home and we placed last. Another successful parent fundraiser raised us $2000.00. We worked all winter long to create the perfect prom. Our work paid off when "A Night in the Spotlight" became a prom to remember.

Finally, we were seniors! We started off the year with another race that raked in $1300.00. We walked into the auditorium for our final election. With more room on the e-board, we elected Karla Espino as President, Jose Rivera as Vice President, Erin McNally as Secretary, Andrew Philbrook as Treasurer, Liz Blake as Public Relations, and Lauren Wilson as Historian. We ruled the rally by winning skit, poster, spirit, and overall with"That 70's Skit." When the plans of Grad Night fell through just like the library, we were excited for our senior trip to Pine Grove in New York.

They always say high school is the best four years of your life and even through the thick and thin, we proved it true. Now each of us is ready to embark on our journey through life. We will always remember our times at SHS and, in the words of Mr. Silver, "This is where we come in."

...when your with them, you can be totally lost, yet feel right at home. You can be heart broken, yet find yourself giggling uncontrollably. You can be doing something that should be completely boring and relize you're having the time of your life.

- Sarah Muller

I love you girls. I don't know where I would be without you

Love, Erin

Andrew,

As parents we only wish that you strive to be the best you can be. You have not only achieved this goal, you have far exceeded any of our expectations. You have become such an incredible person, so intelligent, generous, and kindhearted. There is no doubt that you will be successful in any path you choose. We are so proud of your many accomplishments and feel very lucky to have you as our son. We love you very much.

Congratulations to you and all of your classmates! GO CLASS OF 2008!

Love,
Dad, Mom, & Jordyn

Lauren,

We have watched you grow from a pony tailed, smiling little girl to a mature, confident young woman. You have earned our pride, admiration and respect your whole life. Always know when the lights in the gym are turned off, the game is over and a new day is coming, your two biggest fans will always be in the stands watching.

We love you very much
MOM and DAD

"I couldn't be prouder to have a sister like you. LOVE YOU!"

Ashley

Ashley,

It's hard to believe how quickly time has gone by... it just seems like yesterday that you were skipping barefoot in the backyard, hair in ponytails, pink frilly dress on, singing and laughing and dreaming of becoming "Pocahontas" or "Belle" or "The Little Mermaid"... adventures of her life... always remember that you are meant to be whatever you dream of becoming... we are so proud of your accomplishments, but mostly of the person you are... and we are so blessed to have been chosen by God to be your parents... you are and always will be our "little princess" and we can't wait to see what you become....

Love,
Mom and Dad

Ashley,

The day you walked into the nursery when I was born, looked at me in my crib and said, "He's cute but where is my sister?" I just knew... that you were someone I could look up to and count on the rest of my life.... congratulations!

Love,
Jake

Congratulations Danielle,

We are very proud of you and all of your accomplishments. Continue to enjoy all that life has to offer. We wish you happiness and success in all that you do!

Love,
Dad, Mom, & Matt

Caitlyn,

My daughter and best friend. It's hard to believe that you will soon be starting a new chapter in your life! We have watched you grow into a confident, compassionate, intelligent & beautiful young lady, with a smile that lights up a room, don't ever loose that smile! We are so proud of you, the way you have worked so hard at school and the love you have for cheering. Always remember how much we love you & that we will always be here for you. Thanks for being such a wonderful daughter. you have made our job as parents easy! We have been through good times & bad, happy, sad, but we went through it together & we always will! The time has come to let you write the next chapter of your life. I know it will be unique & exciting, just as you are! Never be afraid to reach for the stars & never change who you are. Be true to your self. Enjoy & have fun. Life is what you make of it! May God keep you happy, healthy, safe guide you through life. Thanks for being my best friend and allowing me to be yours. Always & Forever!

Love, Mom & Dad

Congratulations to the Class of 2008

CLASS OF

Class of 2008

Class Prophecy

It's June of 2033 and the members of the Southbridge High School graduating class of 2008 are gathering for their 25th reunion being held at the now 20 year old Southbridge High School located on Torrey Road. The reunion is causing a lot of buzz around town because the best class to graduate from Southbridge High is returning for the night. Some of the staff at the school are planning this big event: English teachers Liz Blake and Ashley Power, school psychologist Zuleika Vazquez, gym teacher Tony Aponte, and history department head Nate LaMay with his wife, the former class president, Karla Espino.

The event was to start at 7:00 P.M. sharp. Sean Keovilay was not invited back after high school because he started the food fight of 2004. Monica Velez had a sore throat from yelling too much. Kirsten Larson was lost and called to get directions. Katie Jernigan, the school secretary, reminded her that the new school was across the street from where she grew up. Kirsten still got lost. Everything was going swell as people began to arrive. The wealthier members of the class arrived first: Tex, the NASCAR Nextel Cup winner; Andrew Philbrook, CEO of Geico Insurance; Siobhan Masse, the Famous "Juicy Booty" clothing designer; and Kayla LaFleche, a grassroots lobbyist. Next to arrive was jacked John Moore carrying Carmen Santana who had broken her leg again after her 12th car accident. (Andrew Philbrook makes most of his insurance money from Carmen's policy.) Somchet Keophaymany was behind them saying "Stairs in Kansas are made differently." She sneezed and fell down, knocked over John who dropped Carmen. Poor Carmen broke her other leg and had to be rushed to the hospital where Nurse Marissa Duval tended to her. Danielle St. Onge was also there, getting treated for food poisoning.

Every one got on the dance floor and danced to DJ Marcos' jams. We danced mostly to the oldies... 50 cent, Linkin Park, 311, Creed, etc. Dinner was great. It was catered by Emily Yang's "Super Buffet." The potato salad was supplied by Thom Tetreault, the Big Y produce manager. H3 had to leave early because little H4 got ill from the potato salad. We had to restore our senior video, but it was no surprise when Jon Peloquin and Luis Ortiz digitally mastered it with their graphic arts skills in no time at all. At 8:00 the bar opened with the talented bartenders Jesse Perez and Trevor Lewis.

The reunion was going well until a scuffle broke out in the back of the room between Ashley Aubuchont and Lauren DiGregorio. Ashley claimed that Connecticut was a state and Lauren stomped her foot and claimed differently. Felicia Crane came into the scuffle and declared that she flew in from her home in Canada and she knows Canada is a real country. The police had to be called. Officers Ryan Duquette, Mike Hibbard, and Sean Lavallee responded to the scene. The three women were arrested and shared a cell with Derek Morrell and Derek Casaletta. All five were bailed out of jail by Jessenia Fernandez, who happened to be hugging a tree outside the station.

Once all the commotion was over, Jalea Adorno suggested a dance off. Everyone agreed and the fun began. There were two teams. The first team was composed of Lymarie Albino, Dariana Aponte, Sashira Belfort, Ileana Morales and lil' Joe Buccelli. The second team consisted of Jose Carrera, Amid Carrera, Javier Hernandez, Luis Marin, Dahyanny Perez, and Stephanie Torres. The latter was disqualified due to Stephanie's bumping Joe with her behind in the head and knocking him out. The first group won with a landslide victory.

As the night went on, some of the class went to Jon Rossi's Cabaret on Broadway and others went out to the new field to watch a drive in movie [Back to the Future 2005]. Suddenly, a fight broke out over who would ride in Jose Rivera's army Hummer and who would ride in one of Corey Savoie's Mustangs. Felicia Lemire and Jonathan Ramos decided they would just take her convertible back. Kristi Garieri, Meagan Hebert and Joe Riley sided with Corey and jumped in the back seat while Erin McNally and Jon Santa decided they'd rather ride in the Hummer. Back at the drive-in, Lauren Wilson cried because white stuff came flying out when she needed a tissue. She asked Caitlyn Laliberte to call the fire department, but Caitlyn was too busy texting Michael Rodriguez about who he was with. Before the night could officially end, they decided to all get together one last time.

Steve Carrington and Miguel Villefranc had opened up a basketball steakhouse down the way, and the class convened there. Jeremy Dresser was the sous chef, Indi Lopez worked the cash register with her awesome banking skills, and Nick Mach was the clumsy busboy. Rosemary Maldonado's art lined the walls, and the funky fresh beats from Justice Maldonado's new CD, "Soulja Man" blasted out the speakers. Elizabet Rivera ordered some shrimp, but it didn't come out on time. Beatriz Sagastibelza had to hold Sheila Rodriguez back from attacking Josh Sawyer for no reason. Brendan Shunaman, sax in hand, arrived on the scene and played a lullaby. Everyone chilled.

All of a sudden, Hector Serrano hopped out of a dumpster and screamed, "I WANT SOME WENDY'S!" Well, he was certainly in luck. Jose and Paula Torres own the entire Wendy's franchise! Kristine Valle worked there.

And so, the night drew to a close. The casualties weren't bad. Only a few stubbed toes and a broken leg. The townsfolk will remember this night as, "The Prophecy of 2008."

THE END!

Goodbye SHS!
We'll miss you.
